Progress In Education Holds Successful Golf Tournament

Progress in Education, Inc., (P.I.E.) grossed $5,000 in its Memorial Day Weekend Golf Tournament held in Northern Virginia. PIE officials were pleasantly surprised by the success of this year's event, given the challenging economic environment. "There is still a lot of work to do to reach Ghanaian communities in the mid-Atlantic region to patronize the fundraising activities used to support secondary schools in Ghana," P.I.E President, Griffiths Ayiteyfi, said.. PIE appreciates the support of all its donors. In particular, P.I.E is grateful to Thompson and Cynthia Grant of Northern Virginia for their commitment and dedication to making this year's Memorial Day Weekend Golf Tournament, and each of the past tournaments, a success.

P.I.E continues to look for financial support from the Ghanaian community in the United States, and friends of Ghana, to enable it to provide more educational resources, including science laboratory materials and computer software and hardware, to secondary schools in Ghana. According to P.I.E treasurer Dr. Sybil Pentsil, P.I.E. has a current bank balance in excess of $21,000 and that amount will enable the organization to provide an educational stimulus to Ghanaian schools before the summer is over.

Progress in Education is a non-profit tax-exempt charity formed in August 2000 to provide educational resources to schools in Ghana and to promote cross-cultural understanding between Ghana and the United States. To date over fifteen schools in Ghana have benefited from PIE's grants and donations.
